

Polichronis Karagkiozidis

Chemist

Master in Chemistry and Computing in Chemistry

Eleven chemist books, a manual and a multimedia in astronomy. The audience of the above publications is: High-school teachers, university students and students of high-school. Three of these publications can be located in university libraries and one is used as a reference in four different hi-school students' books.

Thirteen articles have been published in scientific magazines and much more in daily and monthly newspapers and magazines.

23 lectures have been already published in the Proceedings of various scientific Conferences and Seminars.

He is a scientific member of scientific convention committee and of two scientific magazines

He is a creator and "in vivo" presenter of planetarium programmes at NOESIS

Planetarium of Thessaloniki.

He has a wealth of experience in teacher training, and many years of teaching experience in the public and private sector.

He has two patents from Innovative designs by the Ministry of Commerce

They honoured him with a diploma from the well-known Greek Mathematical Company

From 1997-until 2003 he was a member of the board of directors of Chemist in North Greece. Now he is a member of the board of directors of Technical Museum of Thessaloniki.

He is a funding member of the union «Friends of Astronomy of Thessaloniki and he used to be in the board of directors.